Hallowe'en

Brookland Road.

I was so well pleased with what I knewed,
I called myself no fool -
Till I met with a maid on the Brookland Road,
That turned me back to school.

Low down - low down!
Where the little green lantern shines -
I said, he's gone with 'ee all but me,
And he can never be mine!

There, right in the midst of a hot June night,
With the stars, 'twas 'twas 'twas,
And I see'd her face by the fairy light
That beats from off the ground.

She my smiles and she near spoke,
She smiled and went away;
But when she'd gone my heart was broken,
And my wit was clean away.

I shp' you enjoy and let me be -
Let be, O Brookland bells!
You'll ring Old Goodman out of the sea,
Before I wed one else!

Old Goodman's Farm is rank sea-sand,
And was this thousand year;
But it shall turn to rich ploughland,
Before I change my dear.

O, Fairfield Church is water-borne
From autumn to the spring;
But it shall turn to high hill ground
Before my bells do ring.

O, lean me with on the Brookland Road,
In the thunder and warm rain -
O, lean me back where my love goes,
And perhaps I'll see her again!

Low down - low down!
Where the little green lantern shines -
I said, he's gone with 'ee all but me,
And she can never be mine!

Psalm CXLVII

Hark! the song of Tin-tin-lee heard as mighty-thunder roar, On the fullness of the sea

When it breaks upon the shore. "Halle-lu-jah! for the Lord God omnipotent shall reign."

Halle-lu-jah! let the word Echo round the earth and main.

God of our Fa-thers! Be our Guide when wild, rolls in battle-ride, Lead us well

The first system of the handwritten musical score consists of two staves. The upper staff is a vocal line in treble clef, starting with a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a common time signature. It contains the lyrics "God of our Fa-thers! Be our Guide when wild, rolls in battle-ide, Lead us well". The lower staff is a piano accompaniment in bass clef, providing harmonic support with chords and moving lines. The music is written in a cursive, handwritten style.

follow, side — by side, Nor fear to stray Through long the road and dark the night,

The second system continues the musical piece. The vocal line (treble clef) carries the lyrics "follow, side — by side, Nor fear to stray Through long the road and dark the night,". The piano accompaniment (bass clef) continues with similar harmonic textures. The notation includes various note values and rests, with some dynamic markings like "dim." and "rit." visible.

Thou! men nor stars appear in sight, Through win-ter dawns shall rise the light of fair-er day. —

The third system of the score features the lyrics "Thou! men nor stars appear in sight, Through win-ter dawns shall rise the light of fair-er day. —". The vocal line (treble clef) and piano accompaniment (bass clef) continue their respective parts. The piano part shows some changes in chord structure and dynamics.

'God and the Right!' our little eye — O lead — us on — to vic-to-ry! A-men

The final system of the score concludes the piece with the lyrics "'God and the Right!' our little eye — O lead — us on — to vic-to-ry! A-men". The vocal line (treble clef) and piano accompaniment (bass clef) reach their final notes. The piano part ends with a clear cadence, and the piece concludes with a double bar line.
